

Betsy Mulvey

Road to Red Oak: I learned about the opportunity and was introduced to Punit. My first meeting with him was really impactful for me and it was clear that Red Oak aligned with my values.

Why Red Oak: The opportunity to do some really great HR work that has the support of the senior leadership team. It was clear to me that Red Oak Sourcing was looking for a partner for employee engagement.

Management style: I'm open and collaborative. I seek out what's best in people, find common ground when there's a challenge, and create the best environment for people to succeed.

Best known for: My energy and enthusiasm.

Tips for new hires: Although we have a hybrid work model, spend as much time in the office as you can, so you can connect with senior leaders, grow, and develop your career. It doesn't naturally happen on Zoom, but it'll happen when you're walking down the hallway or grabbing a cup of coffee in the break room.
